

IRON MOUSE YEAR 2147

Tibetan Calendar 2020

DEAR READER

This calendar is meant specifically for practitioners of Tibetan Buddhism. It shows the cycle of twelve months according to the Tibetan lunar calendar together with the corresponding months and days of the Western calendar.

The Tibetan astrology is a combination of Buddhist astrology from Kalachakra-Tantra, Hindu astrology from Shiva-Tantra and ancient Chinese astrology. Due to the synchronisation of solar day, lunar month, and zodiac year in Tibetan astrology you will see that a day can be lost or doubled.

The regular holy days as well as special days of Tibetan and Buddhist festivals are indicated. Although every day of the year is a special day for the practice of Dharma, the selection made here is on the bases of giving priority to the most important ones.

The 8th Moon, Full Moon, New Moon and eclipse days are special days for any wholesome action. For the lay practitioners these days are especially recommended for taking the Eight Vows. The 10th and 25th of the Tibetan calendar are days for Ganachakra or Tsok-Rituals of Tantra. They are especially recommended for performing Guru-Pujas. Sojong or Upposotha days twice a month are for confession of monastic communities.

We wish you good physical and spiritual health for this year, and may you spend each day of this year in a wholesome way.

THE MEANING OF BUDDHISM by Geshe Rabten

Buddhism is neither a strange tradition peculiar to certain foreign lands, nor a collection of dry words contained in books and libraries. Such opinions fail to discern what in fact Buddhism is.

All creatures in this world, whether human or animal, are constantly motivated by the same basic aims: the achievement of happiness and the removal of suffering. But although our entire existence is lived in pursuit of these goals we never fully achieve them. The real, lasting happiness we desire eludes us and in the depths of our minds we continue to suffer. In our search for satisfaction we construct roads, schools, hospitals and so forth. Although these afford us some relief they are unable to remove the very roots of physical and mental pain. On the contrary, we observe how mental unrest tends to increase with technological progress. But why, despite our enormous efforts, should this be the case?

We generally consider the source of all our problems to be external to ourselves. We then try to overcome and manipulate these conditions. Of course, external conditions affect our lives and cause us to suffer, but it has to be recognised that the root cause for our painful experiences is deeply embedded within our own minds. The external situations are only contributing circumstances. In this light it becomes clear that no matter how much we change the external world we will never arrive at a truly satisfactory solution.

But what is it within us that causes us to continually suffer? It is self-concern, the attitude of cherishing oneself while disregarding others. In dependence upon self-concern attachment to one's own interest and resentment to the interests of others arise. Upon this basis all conflicts ensue. If, however, self-concern were absent, no conflicts could ever occur. As long as the mind is dominated by self-concern we shall never be satisfied. Even if our situation is pleasant there will always be a restless longing for something else, which prevents any lasting peace and happiness from finding its way into our lives.

However, if this self-concern is decreased, hatred and attachment will likewise diminish in strength. And to the degree in which these factors are reduced we will notice an increase in our concern for others, as well as an increase in our own contentment and peace of mind

Where can the means be found to transform the mind in this way? They can be found in the Buddha's teachings. Thus the methods shown by the Buddha are extremely valuable for anyone truly seeking happiness, whether Buddhist or not. Buddhism should therefore be understood as a method for overcoming mental suffering and for increasing the sense of well-being for both self and others

We all know how much we appreciate being treated kindly by others. In the same way it should be realised that others too experience much joy upon being treated kindly by us. When concern for others grows strong, self-concern, hatred and attachment will diminish, one's mind will experience calmness and joy, and others will receive true benefit. All conflicts between individuals, groups of people, and even nations will be resolved as soon as concern for others takes the place of concern for oneself.

Concern for others is therefore the source of all individual and collective well-being, both secular and religious. To achieve this is the essence of Buddhism.

With these words the activities of the Rabten Choeling monastery were announced in 1977 by the Venerable Geshe Rabten Rinpoche. And with this objective the activities of all the Rabten monasteries and study centres, as well as the Edition Rabten publishing service have been carried on since then.

If you see a true benefit in such efforts for today's society and would like to support these aims, please be assured that your help is greatly appreciated.

DHARMA FESTIVALS

र्केश ग्री दुश के दावन

Chotrul Duechen: Day of Buddha Shakyamuni's Great Miracles

Saga Dawa: This means ,Month of Saga', which is the fourth month of the lunar calendar. On the full moon day of this month, Buddha Shakyamuni showed his deed of taking birth, attaining enlightenment, and going into Parinirvana.

Choekor Duechen: Buddha Shakyamuni turned the Wheel of Dharma for the first time.

Lha Bab Duechen: Buddha Shakyamuni's return from the realm of the devas

Gaden Ngamchoe: Day of Je Tsongkhapa's Pariniryana.

Parinirvana days: The days of passing away.

Trungkar days: Birthdays of masters.

Those days are very special days for the practice of Dharma. Any positive or negative actions performed on these days have a strong multiplying effect.

TIBETAN FESTIVALS

Losar: Tibetan New Year. First day of the lunar calendar. It is celebrated in every auspicious and joyous way.

Zam Ling Chi Sang: Day of the Sang-Offering (ritual smoke-offering) to all the Protectors.

Sangpo Chuzom: The Day of the Ten Good Omens. This is a day for transforming all inauspicious situations into auspicious ones. Special day for merrymaking.

SPECIAL DAYS

श्ररायारे मे त्कर र्य

Rishi-Star: This special astrological constellation causes the natural water-sources on earth to be transformed into nectar-like liquids. It is therefore particularly beneficial to take baths on these days.

ASTROLOGICAL YEAR-SIGNS AND DAYS

In Tibetan astrology the days of the week are classified into harmonious and disharmonious days according to an individual's year of birth. So-called Luck-days and Life-days are harmonious. These days are generally considered as particularly suitable for starting projects and celebrating auspicious events. Anti-days, or disharmonious days, are generally considered as unsuitable for such events. It is something to be considered in case of choice.

In Tibetan astrology the energies of the four elements, earth, water, fire and wind, are described to influence our days. It is either the double strength of one element or the union of two elements that predominates. According to the compatible or incompatible nature of the elements the days will be auspicious or inauspicious for particular activities. It is something to be considered in case of choice.
